

OVERVIEW OF INCOMING SIGNALS

The following information is based on incoming signals to the National Human Trafficking Hotline from January 1, 2021 – December 31, 2021 about human trafficking cases and issues related to human trafficking in the United States and U.S. territories. Signals can take the form of phone calls, text, Webchat¹, online tip reports², or emails. Signals to the Hotline regarding topics unrelated to human trafficking are considered non-substantive and are not summarized in this report. In 2021, the National Human Trafficking Hotline received a total of 51,073 substantive³ phone calls, text, Webchats, emails, or online tip reports nationwide.

¹ Webchats are a means of communicating with NHTH staff directly on the website using the online chat feature.

² Online tip reports are standardized forms which can be completed on the website, allowing signalers to provide details without directly interacting with NHTH staff.

SUBSTANTIVE SIGNAL DATA

DATA ABOUT HUMAN TRAFFICKING SITUATIONS

Each request submitted to the Hotline is evaluated for evidence of potential human trafficking. In the United States, a total of 10,360 unique cases (incidents) of potential human trafficking were reported to the Hotline in 2021. A single human trafficking situation may involve a single potential victim or many potential victims. Additionally, while National Human Trafficking Hotline (NHTH) staff use detailed protocols to assess indicators of trafficking, advocates adapt their phrasing and scope of questions in response to the individual's answers and the circumstances of the signal. Beyond this trafficking assessment, victims and third parties reporting these situations are not asked a set of standardized questions and only provide information that they felt comfortable sharing with NHTH staff to get the help they needed. As such, the data points in this document represent only what those contacting the National Human Trafficking Hotline chose to disclose. The number of survivors with a particular attribute would likely have been higher if NHTH staff had systematically asked a standardized set of questions to each individual contacting the Hotline.

⁴Venue industry is representative of the type of labor or commercial sex which victims and survivors were forced to engage in as a part of their trafficking situation.

⁵To protect the identity of the people we serve, the National Human Trafficking Hotline does not disclose exact statistics related to venues, industries, victim information or signaler information referenced fewer than three times.

⁶Cases where trafficking type is not specified typically occur when a law enforcement agent or service provider contacts the Hotline for resources and referrals but does not disclose details about the trafficking situation due to confidentiality. This category also includes cases in which the person reporting the information references human trafficking but does not provide further detail regarding the presence of labor or commercial sex. These cases are often submitted to the Hotline through anonymous online tip reports.
